DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(4) because reference character "118" has been used to designate both spring and electromechanical device [Figs 4A and B]. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

2. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities:

A] on page 23 lines 1 and 7, reference character "76" has been used to designate both "forward extending member" and "mounting member".

B] on page 23 line 7, it appears that "Fig 1" should be changed to --Fig 2--,

C] on page 25 lines 1 and 8 from the bottom, reference character "112" has been used to designate both "opening" and "cover".

D] on page 26 line 1, it appears that "115" should be changed to --114 --,

Further examples are too numerous to elaborate on. Applicant is required to review and revise the entire specification to in order to correct those having the similar defects but not specifically pointed to.

Appropriate correction is required.

3. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

4. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because of the use of legal phraseology [note the word "means" in line 10. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

5. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

6. Claims 37-47 and 54-55 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

With respect to claims 37 and 54, the preamble of the claim is confusing since it is not clear whether the claim is an apparatus claim or a method claim.

Claim 38 is indefinite since all that the applicant considers to be encompassed by the phrase "placing de-energizing the electromechanical means" cannot be determined.

Double Patenting

7. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

8. Claims 1-69 rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-9, 20-36 and 52-63 of U.S. Patent No. 6,626,085 B1, hereinafter "US'085". Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claims are similar in scope and subject matter.

Claims 1-9, 20-36 and 52-63 of US'085 do not recite the specific drive mechanism to operate the specific closure member as recited in claims 5-16, 23-35, 41-47, 50-53 and 56-61-69. It would have been obvious to modify the device claimed in the US'085 Patent by replacing the closure member and the drive mechanism with the specific drive mechanism to operate the specific closure member since they will perform the same function of driving the closure member, if one is replaced with the other.
